About this Release

On Friday, August 26th the rock band Evership publishes the third and final single from their upcoming conclusion to the Rock Opera The Uncrowned King! The Law of Ages highlights the subtle and powerful range of vocalist Beau West and the classical influence of Shane Atkinson's compositional prowess. Introspective and powerful, with notes as varied as Coldplay, The Scorpions, Kansas and Queen, this single is a good power ballad suitable for modern, classic, acoustic and progressive rock programs. A music video for The Law of Ages will be released Sept. 14th. The Uncrowned King - Act 2 will be released October 14th.

About this Song

In this part of the rock opera, the wrongful king, the younger twin prince, has been crowned, leaving the rightful heir hopeless, until he meets Wisdom. The message here is when unjust life situations create uncertainties that are of such a scope as to be beyond our control, Wisdom encourages us to be patient and not reactive and comforts us with the knowledge that ill-gotten gain is temporal and truth, eventually, will be known.

About Evership

Rock band Evership is the conceptualization of composer, multi-instrumentalist and producer/engineer Shane Atkinson, along with lead vocalist Beau West. Few recent acts have made a bigger splash than Evership in the world of modern art/progressive or symphonic rock. Their impactful 2016 self-titled album catapulted them to the forefront of the rock world. This led to mainstage performances at the largest of US Art/Prog rock festivals RoSFest and ProgStock and over 50 glowing national and international reviews and interviews. Each successive album has been honored in the yearly "Best of's" by critical reviewers. The response to The Uncrowned King - Act 1 was astounding. Highland (Issue #108) hails Evership as "firmly establishing themselves in the Progressive American Landscape" and UK's ProgRadar sites "Evership is the new face of American Prog".
